Hi Michael.,

I hope all is well with you.

My name is Oren Einstein and I will be your personal contact at Kamatera.com.

I understand you are interested in creating an environment and using us as your cloud provider.

Regarding your question: Yes, you can accomplish cross-mailbox keyword searches on Zimbra 9.0, and these searches will cover all historical emails stored on the server at once, not just individual months. We can provide a cost estimate based on your specific requirements, and you can expect to be online with this setup within your 3-week timeframe. Please let us know if you need further details or the estimated cost.

In order to send you an accurate offer, please provide me with the following configurations required?

How many CPU's

How much RAM.

How much SSD storage you require.

Servers' Operating system you wish to use.

In what data center will you need the server in, I suggest you do a speed test and ping our DC's: Click Here

Looking forward hearing from you.

Have a great day

Best regards

Kind Regards,

Oren Einstein
